Fields Corporation (Head office: Shibuya-ku, Tokyo; President and COO: Takashi Oya) announces the nationwide release of the new pachislot machine from Rodeo Co., Ltd., "Monster Hunter."

The first Monster Hunter, an action video game from Capcom Co., Ltd., went on sale in 2004. Since then, the series has been developed for a diverse range of platforms and earned overwhelming support from many video game fans. A total of 21 million units* of this popular video game series have been sold to date.

This pachislot machine captures the essence of the original video game by allowing users to experience the life of a hunter as they encounter a wide variety of monsters. A brand new Monster Hunter world has been created by combining a game progression based around subjugating monsters and game functions like the Assist Replay Time (ART) system and bonuses—the most enjoyable elements of pachislot.

This machine—which challenges users to become the strongest hunter—is not only for pachislot enthusiasts, but a wide range of people including video game fans.

"Monster Hunter" pachislot machine is scheduled for delivery in March 2012 to pachinko halls throughout Japan.

* Sales numbers current as of December 31, 2011. The content of the pachislot machine differs partially from the original games.
